Centralized Test Automation and Machine Management

In a development world moving at the speed of DevOps, qTest Launch provides a scalable test automation strategy and a central location for kicking off automated tests and tracking results.

Scale Test Automation
By centralizing automated test execution, qTest Launch enables enterprises to scale test automation from hundreds to thousands of test runs across different test machines.

Increase Automation Coverage
With qTest Launch, QA teams can centrally configure automated testing across open source, commercial and custom-built automation solutions all connected to ALM tools like Jira Software.

qTest Insights
Actionable, Real-time Test Metrics
Say goodbye to poor software testing metrics and reporting frustrations with qTest Insights – a self-service business intelligence tool cross project testing.

Enterprise Dashboard Reporting
Having a common set of reports across your test teams can be a challenge. Remove the headache of having multiple reports in various locations with qTest Insights shared dashboards.

Visualize Application Health
qTest Insights gives you the ability to build any kind of report you want, exactly the way you want it through engaging heat maps, interactive charts, and drill down reports.

qTest Scenario
Enterprise BDD for Jira
qTest Scenario is Jira add-on for enterprise teams practicing Behavior-Driven Development that facilitating test scenario creation and ensuring feature traceability to Jira issues.

Supercharged BDD Collaboration in Jira
With qTest Scenario’s autocomplete, BDD teams can better reuse previously implemented Cucumber steps or outlines to streamline feature and scenario creation.

Source Code Traceability
qTest Scenario directly stores all feature files into private Git repositories like GitHub, GitLab and Bitbucket to standardize feature files and scenario steps as code.
Hear From Some of Our Satisfied Customers

I like that you can easily import Jira requirements into qTest and submit defects from test runs directly to Jira. That's a big time saver.

Adam Wollacott
QA Lead at CloudLock, a Cisco Company

We were able to quickly migrate all our test cases from HP Quality Center to qTest and get the team up-and-running in just a few weeks. The implementation process was excellent.

Radka Iordanova
Director, E-Commerce
Office Depot, Inc.

qTest made it extremely easy to get off HP QC. When we make a change in Jira, I see that change in qTest a second later. That real-time sync is huge for us.
